Passing the Torch Through the Arts is proud to present educational theater at its finest with the return of Michael Monasterials' hit musical,

"Sam Cooke: Where You Been Baby?"

It's an American Pop Fable that illuminates the life and musical genius of an American original. The pop singer who wrote, performed and produced 24 Billboard hits over his 8 years at the top of the charts was also a pioneer in the Civil Rights movement and an inventor of musical styles that are still incorporated in pop and gospel music 50 years later.

Sam Cooke's early years in Mississippi, his rise to fame and his demons that ultimately lead to his untimely demise are explored in this drama, but it is well seasoned with humor, pathos and most of all great, great music. The play has been presented to large houses and standing ovations. So come enjoy this masterpiece as it is honed and crafted to perfection by an intergenerational, multi-talented cast and crew.

Play credits:

The play is written and directed by Michael Monasterial with music by SUNY New Paltz's Kyle Phillip Lashley and choreography by Abby Lappen. It stars Kitt Potter, Stephen M. Jones, Evelyn Clarke, Dennis Washington and SUNY Albany's

Quintin Piper as Sam Cooke

"Monasterial is a playwright with a mission to educate America about race relations through music. It's worth learning the lesson!"
